Hands of Zionists drip with blood

Since the Zionist Entity (Israel) started invading Lebanon in 1982, the hostile excuse by which American and Zionist planners tried to justify is pale and weak — especially, that the simplest of human rights have not been violated as much as was known in Lebanon.

Since that time and through several international organizations the world condemned the hostile offense and its continuation against the Lebanese and the Palestinian people. Besides, the necessity of the withdrawal of all Zionist troops from Lebanon, has constantly been ensured by liberation movements around the world.

This was motivated by the effects of the economic destruction resulting from the occupation.

Therefore, several international conferences — among them the Nonaligned Conferences and the meetings of the United Nations Security Council — were held particularly to discuss the stream of events in Lebanon and the means by which the Zionist Entity could be forced to abide with international law.

It was obviously clear, of course, that any international attempt aiming to spread economic and political stability in Lebanon was faced by either the non-humanistic American veto power or by the Zionist inconsideration known ever since.

In this regard, some of the colonial reasons behind which the Zionist Entity tried to hide in an attempt to mislead the world public opinion should be noted.

The first reason that was openly announced by official sources in the White House and Israel was the necessity to destroy the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), either by defeating its organizational structure, or pushing them out of Lebanon. The justification that those sources tried to use is that the PLO is an outside factor in Lebanon which carries the responsibility for all disturbances and unstable conditions.

Thus, as the sources of the invading forces claimed, the outside factors must be abandoned from that country so that the situation will stabilize and the disasters will vanish.

With ironic anger, the human being feels wounded when he sees that toward the end of the 20th century about 4,000 Palestinians and Lebanese in the Sabra and Shatila refugee camps and several hundred Americans were victims of the American government's claims and the facism of the Zionist hand that is still undry of blood.

Lebanon's wounds are still bleeding as a result of the Zionist destruction where the most modern destructive American weapons were used. Lebanon didn't forget and will never forget that not a single Palestinian airplane ever bombarded Beirut or any of its villages. Lebanon will never forget the dark smoky days in Beirut, the victim of the hostile rape.

The second reason announced by the occupying forces was the protection of the Zionist settlements in north Palestine from the bombarding of the Palestinian commandoes. Again, and with ironic anger, more than before, Zionist soldiers get killed today as a result of the Lebanese National Movement resistance which has the legitimate right to defend its national identity.

That phenomenon did not protect the Zionist settlements. What it actually did was to transfer the center of conflict in terms of place, where the invading forces became an easy target for guerrilla warfare.

With no more length, I need not to emphasize that the calculations of the White House and the facists of the Zionist Entity — in regard to Lebanon and the Palestinian Revolution — did actually prove its failure after it had an eternal negative effect of the innocents of Lebanon and the refugees of Palestine; children and old people.

Additionally, those calculations destroyed the pride of the facist planners before the world public opinion in spite of their rejection to confess.

Now it is appropriate to question if the Zionist troops are indeed withdrawing from Lebanon as often mentioned in the media. An unquestionably brilliant fact is that the Zionist Entity has never been to confess its facist criminal deed.

By the same measurement, the Zionist Entity has never been able to stop its brutality against the Palestinian people wherever they exist.

I need not say that if the knife of the murderer is removed from the wound of the victim, the victim does not recover from bleeding till it is bandaged. At any rate, some of the Zionist troops might leave some parts of Lebanon, but they leave behind the pictures of the massacre and voices of the innocents' ghosts. More importantly than that is what follows the symbolic withdrawal process.

Finally, I believe that well-studied plans are discussed on the highest levels to spread more sectarian and economic instability in Lebanon more than before and with new forms.

In addition is the tendency of the Zionist Entity to direct the hostility of its failure toward the Palestinian people in the occupied territories, the West Bank and Gaza Strip. In particular, the educational institutions and the camps of the refugees are targeted.

It is my belief that the American citizen is indebted in part to humanity, and in another part to himself, to approach such a situation and question what has to be done.
